

Psychology Instructor

The Faculty of Arts, Department of Psychology, invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Instructor. The anticipated start date is July 1, 2018.

We are seeking a candidate with expertise in cognitive, social, and/or abnormal psychology, who is focused on teaching and teaching innovation. Ability to teach quantitative psychology courses would be an asset. Duties will include teaching at the undergraduate level, including large introductory and junior courses, as well as more specialized senior seminars designed for psychology majors.

The successful candidate will participate in curriculum development, departmental and university service, and will actively support our undergraduate program. Opportunities for undergraduate research supervision are available.

The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. in Psychology (or equivalent) and demonstrate evidence of, or strong potential for, teaching effectiveness, experience in student mentoring, innovation in teaching at the university level, and facility with the use of technology in classroom instruction.

Applications should be sent as a single .pdf document and include a current curriculum vita, a 1-page statement of teaching philosophy, a teaching dossier that includes recent teaching evaluations, up to three samples of peer-reviewed scholarly work, especially those that demonstrate integration of teaching and scholarly expertise, and the names and contact information for 3 referees. The materials should be sent electronically to dowdell@ucalgary.ca, directed to:
