

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Child Clinical Psychology

Position # 001996TT-2018-PSY-SPF50-50

The University of Windsor's Department of Psychology invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the area of Child Clinical Psychology commencing July 1, 2018. Preference will be given to candidates with specialized training and background experience in autism spectrum disorders. This position is subject to final budgetary approval.

This position is one of 50 new tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments that the University of Windsor is making over three years as part of a visionary strategic investment in our students and faculty. This cohort of 50 new teachers, scholars, researchers, and creators will demonstrate both disciplinary grasp and interdisciplinary reach, providing extraordinary leadership in research, teaching, and learning for a new generation. For more information on the 50 new appointments, visit us at <http://www.uwindsor.ca/50newprofs>.

In addition to serving a large undergraduate population, the Psychology Department offers doctoral degrees in Clinical Psychology and in Applied Social Psychology. Our CPA- accredited Clinical Psychology Program offers specialized training in three areas: Adult Clinical, Child Clinical, and Clinical Neuropsychology. The department has the largest doctoral program on campus, an energetic culture of scholarship, and operates a state of the art Psychological Services & Research Centre. For further details, visit our website at <http://www.uwindsor.ca/psychology>.

Preference will be given to candidates who have completed a PhD (by date of appointment) in clinical psychology from a CPA- or APA- accredited program with pre-doctoral or post-doctoral specialty training in child/adolescent clinical psychology and autism spectrum disorder; registered or are eligible for registration as a Psychologist in the Province of Ontario (if not registered, the successful candidate must begin the registration process within the first year of hire, as registration in Ontario for autonomous practice is required for the appointee to be considered for tenure); a strong commitment to the scientist/practitioner model; a demonstrated track record of peer-reviewed research publications; a demonstrated capacity for developing a research program in autism spectrum disorders; undergraduate teaching experience; the ability and willingness to teach graduate courses in child and adolescent assessment and/or intervention, undergraduate courses in developmental psychology, child psychopathology, methods of behaviour change, and other courses related to the candidate's expertise; the ability and desire to supervise graduate student research and clinical practice; a willingness to contribute to the administrative activities of the Clinical Program, Department, and University; and a willingness to engage in proactive involvement with the University of Windsor's Psychological Services and Research Centre (PSRC) in order to provide psychological services to children and adolescents and to fulfil clinical psychology graduate student supervision and training needs.
