STRATEGIC TENURE-TRACK POSITION IN TRAUMA INTERVENTION

The Department of Psychology at Concordia University in Montreal, Quebec invites applications for a strategic tenure-track position in Evidence-Based Trauma Intervention.

The ideal candidate will conduct outstanding and innovative research in evidence-based intervention for trauma and its sequelae. The new hire will join the Center for Clinical Research in Health, a group of clinical-scientists investigating the psychosocial determinants of physical and mental health, and will have access to its dedicated research clinic. Opportunities will be available to establish partnerships with the Montreal Institute for Genocide and Human Rights Studies and the PERFORM Centre. This position comes with a competitive teaching load, capital start-up funding and research stipend.

Applicants must have a Clinical Psychology PhD from an APA- or CPA-accredited program or the equivalent. Applicants should have a demonstrated ability or potential to build a high-quality research program and to secure extramural research funding. They should also have an interest in contributing to clinical training within our CPA- and APA-accredited program in Clinical Psychology. The candidate should be licensed or license-eligible by the Ordre des Psychologues du Québec.

Applications consist of a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, copies of 3 recent publications, a description of the applicant’s research program, a teaching dossier including a statement of teaching philosophy as well as evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a statement of clinical interests and expertise. Candidates must also arrange to have 3 letters of reference, including one addressing clinical skills, sent to:
